ZOOM VERSION

Louis Selly is turning out to be a master boat builder, completing one very recently for Doctor Smith and now having another one almost completed for Dan Goggins, chief electrician for J. M. O'Rourke & Company. In the meantime, he has orders ahead for two or three more, one of which goes to Jim Holmes as soon as it can be built. As he is putting up a good article at a very low figure, he is apt to be kept busy for some time.

ROOSEVELT SHUT DOWN

Will Throw Very Few Men Out of Employment

IT BEGINS JULY FIFTEENTH

A Premature Explosion Mangles a Man—Drowning of Little Boy in Lake. Boat Building Becoming an Industry.

Roosevelt, Ariz., June 24.—(Special correspondence of The Republican.)—The dam, some 155 feet high in the highest place, is being squared up to that height for the distance being between the south bank and the low part that has been left at 106-foot elevation "for the passage of water over the dam conducting off the surplus of the lake" situated at or near the northern extremity of the dam, preparatory to the shut-down that will be able to occur about the 15th of July. As before stated this shut-down will throw very few people out of employment as they can be worked in another work that will be undertaken and accomplished during the shut-down of operations on the main wall. The setting basin has received its final deposit of concrete and the forms are being taken down. It is expected to have this basin in readiness for use in the course of the next ten days. Work on the cementing of the floors of the tunnel will be finished in the course of four or five days.

The ice factory has at last got to running in a workmanlike style and is turning out its ice with the regularity of clockwork. Time, too, for the weather is hotter than ever here, today being a scorching and last night being the hottest night we have experienced this year. A letter received from the coast of Santa Barbara county stated that it could not be very hot here, as it was cold and drizzly. Quite a difference in climate, truly. But Arizona is good enough for us notwithstanding the discomforts we are subjected to during the good old summer time.

Jack Fraser and Will Knight will leave about the first of July for Seattle to take in the big fair being held at that place now. They expect to be gone a couple of months and do the thing up right, making a thorough round up of the coast.

Mrs. F. H. Armer and mother, Mrs. J. H. Armer, of Livingston, left during the week on a visit to relatives on the mother's side. Oregon is their objective point after which they also will stray further north and see the bright glad lights of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition.

Al Stoddard, who has been in the employ of the government here for some time, left during the week for Payson, where his heart preceded him about a month previous.

W. E. Harrod, who has been employed here by the government for the last two years as a painter and carpenter, leaves in the morning for Kansas City, Mo., drifting out of here on the front seat of the Mesa stage.

Tom Abrams, also carpenter, has left a good job to see the sights in the city of Los Angeles, Cal. Leaves by Mesa stage.

Joe Phelps, after making the trip from Globe Tuesday, had a telephone message from Mesa that his wife's grandmother was dead and that she would be buried Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. As Mr. Phelps desired very much to witness the final ceremonies toward one whom she was very much attached, Joe started with his family in a single rig and, driving all night over a road that most people fear to come over in the day time, reached Mesa the next morning just after the stage had pulled out of Roosevelt.

M. Domini, working for O'Rourke & Company, was very seriously injured last Tuesday about 10:30 o'clock by a blast in one of the quarries where he was employed as powder man. It seems that he had tried twice to spring a hole and was making the third attempt without giving the rock time to cool off after the previous discharge. The blast went off prematurely and threw Mr. Domini over a cliff some twenty feet into the rocks below. He received most of his injuries about the face and the hands. One eye was reported blown out and the other deprived of sight by the powder burn. Also he was much cut about the face while the forehead above the eyes was laid back on the top of the head. Quite a piece of flesh was seemingly scrouged out to the bone from just over the point between the eyes. On reaching the rocks below after his fall down the cliff it was stated that he got up on his feet, though he could not see and also that he was in full control of his senses. An automobile was telephoned for from Phoenix and arrived here Tuesday night, taking Mr. Domini aboard and leaving directly for Phoenix so that he could have the full services of an eye specialist in the hope of saving his sight. He is expected to have been very much pleased to learn since that a telephone communication to this point stated that Mr. Domini had recovered the sight of one of his eyes and that there was a possibility the other one would be brought to a condition that would allow him sight in both.

A sad accident befell the stepson of Manuel Guzman, a resident of Roosevelt. The little fellow was about 16 years old and started down to the lake with a couple of other boys for a swim. In the meantime, the other two boys changed their minds, so they stated, and returned home. The Guzman boy went on alone and was seen no more that (Sunday) night. The parents were naturally alarmed and three or four men searched for him the next day, resulting in one of them, a son of Antonio Romo, finding his clothes beside a bush a short distance from the edge of the lake. He examined the water thereabouts but saw nothing. The men returned to town and spread the news of the finding of the clothes. Several Mexicans at once proceeded to the spot and, taking off their clothes, entered the water at the nearest point and soon succeeded in finding the body of the poor little fellow. It was on the bottom in about eight feet of water. The find was reported to Judge Evans, acting as coroner, who held inquest on the body, who brought in a verdict of accidental drowning.

The boy was buried here Tuesday morning.

Three foreigners working in the quarry had a narrow escape yesterday. Some loose rock became dislodged from the ledge above and fell down among them. One had a piece of flesh gouged out of the leg below the knee, while the other two barely escaped without injury.

Loeb Sell is turning out to be a master boat builder, completing one very recently for Doctor Smith and is having another one almost completed for Dan Gorgina, chief electrician for J. M. O'Rourke & Company. In the meantime, he has orders ahead for two or three more, one of which goes to Jim Holmes as soon as it can be built. As he is putting up a good article at a very low figure, he is apt to be kept busy for some time.

The fellow with the paint brush has been busy during the last couple of weeks and the looks of the town has been greatly improved thereby.

The Roosevelt hotel has added a decided improvement to the looks and comfort of that hostelry by the addition of awnings to all the windows exposed to the sun. E. Strait was the man handling the job.

Billy Kimball, who has been handling the ribbons on the Globe stage for the last three months, has returned to his home in Mesa.

Mr. Briazee, of Briazee & Robinson of Mesa was a Roosevelt visitor during the week, spending two or three days here looking at the sights. He was accompanied by his wife and had his own rig to travel in. Mr. Kimball returned with them to Mesa.

Tomorrow the Indian school here will have a picnic, all same American plan. It will be conducted by Mrs. Bingham, who has been laboring here for the last few months teaching their young ones how to shoot along the branches of the tree of knowledge. John Belser subscribed a quarter of beef as a donation to the event. The beef was taken to the wickiups, or tepees, for preparation for the feast tomorrow. Bets are even as to whether there will be any left by tomorrow.

Some of those who claim to know the Indian maintain that when the branches of the tree of knowledge reaches the olfactory organs of the aborigines that the temptation to a hungry stomach thus tempted beyond endurance will set aside all scruples and end with their starting for the picnic grounds with their larder placed in the most convenient position for transportation, but the least convenient place to get at for those who happen to arrive late on the scene from outside points. However, we hope that all will go well as Mrs. Bingham is a very conscientious teacher and has tried very hard to do the best she could with the charges under her care.

Jack Fraser and Charlie Granger were at Roosevelt Sunday making the transfer of the Globe and Payson line on stages and live stock over to Bud Norton, who took charge of the same Sunday morning.

It is contemplated running an extra stage between Roosevelt and Globe on Sunday, the fourth of July, for the benefit of those wishing to spend the 5th celebrating in Globe, provided a stage load can be gotten together to make it worth while.

Dan Parker took his little daughter, who has been suffering from tuberculosis of the bone, to Globe for treatment. He returned leaving her there with relatives. The doctors there with his wife a bit of encouragement that they can cure her by a new treatment without having to resort to any further amputation.

R. S. Wilson of the forest service has been appointed forest supervisor for this district, vice W. H. Reed, who recently resigned on account of poor health. Mr. Wilson arrived last night and presumably took charge of affairs today. J. W. Farmer has been holding down the job between the time of Mr. Reed's resignation and Mr. Wilson's appointment.

Mrs. F. A. Duarte, who has been spending the past five or six months in Phoenix, has returned to her home in Roosevelt accompanied by a brand new heir to the house of Duarte. Mr. Duarte says no race suicide for his.

Jack Barber and O. L. McIntyre practice every day in the art of swimming so that when they receive their next tip-over in their sleep, the Coot, they will have become so used to the water that they will not mind a ducking.

The water of the lake is taking on, or giving forth, rather, quite a perceptible smell and if no sickness arises from it, it will be quite a wonder.

Mart McDonald of Payson has been attending court at Globe during the last three or four days, returning as fast as Roosevelt tonight.

Mr. Fisher, a cattle owner up on the Rye, was a visitor in Roosevelt yesterday.

W. H. Tarpe, promoter and stockholder in the Arizona Overland Telephone company, passed through on his way to Payson from Phoenix last Monday night.

Bud Norton is taking in the part of his mail route lying between Payson and Camp Verde this week with a view to regulating that portion of the carrying of the mail. Route Inspector Roberts of the post office department took in the line lying between Globe and Roosevelt the latter part of last week, coming over Friday and returning to Globe Saturday.

Quail and doves are getting tame and plentiful since the law went into effect prohibiting the shooting of same within the boundaries of the reclamation reservation. The quail still run in pairs with their numerous young following and just getting to have good use of their wings.

O'Rourke & Company are going to give their men a treat in the shape of a dinner on the Fourth of July and are importing several good things to make a thorough success of the occasion. As yet we have received no invitation to the event, but have not the least doubt that it will be forthcoming in good time.

JOYFUL OCCASION FOR JOLLY PEOPLE

Birthday Party at the Johnson Home Wherein Business Was Mixed With Pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Johnson entertained at dinner June 19, in honor of the birthday of their two-year-old son, Raymond. Covers were laid for sixteen. The table was beautifully decorated. The Indian dishes being a large birthday cake decorated with two candles and bearing the inscription, "Raymond Coles Johnson, age two years."

The toastmaster of the evening was E. T. Collings. Mrs. E. T. Collings responded to a toast on Indiana and Mrs. James Griffin gave a toast to Raymond and the place he fills in the Johnson home. Many beautiful presents were received.

After the guests had been regaled by the bountiful repast, Mr. Johnson in his most pleasing manner announced that he wished to make the occasion a mixture of pleasure and business. In his remarks he stated that the New York Life Insurance company of which he is agent is not permitted under the laws of the state of New York governing insurance, to offer any bonuses or prizes, but that he had individually on the first day of January, 1909, offered a solid gold watch to the agent in the Arizona branch having the largest paid business in the hundred thousand dollar club, for the year 1908. He said it gave him great pleasure to announce that W. W. McNeff was the fortunate winner of the watch, after which he presented the prize. The winner responded with proper remarks.

The remainder of the evening was spent at bridge, E. T. Collings and Mrs. Coles making the high scores.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Collings and their daughter, Mary Josephine; Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hulott; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goldworthy; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McNeff; Mrs. W. A. Johnston and young son Kenneth, of Denver; Mrs. John Coles; Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Johnson and son, Raymond.

MANY DRUNKS—Whether the drinkers of the city drink more in too warm weather or whether the heat causes fewer drinks to affect the brain, the fact remains that there have been more arrests for drunkenness since the coming of the summer weather than had been made for some time previous. Yesterday nine or ten inebriates were pulled in and will be given a chance to sober up in the cool confines of the city jail.

DOCTOR KNEW Had Tried It Himself.

The doctor who has tried Postum knows that it is an easy, certain and pleasant way out of the coffee habit and all of the ills following and he prescribes it for his patients as did a physician of Prospertown, N. J.

One of his patients says: "During the summer just past I suffered terribly with a heavy feeling at the pit of my stomach and dizzy feelings in my head and then a blindness would come over my eyes so I would have to sit down. I would get so nervous I could hardly control my feelings. Finally I spoke to our family physician about it and he asked if I drank much coffee and mother told him that I did. He told me to immediately stop drinking coffee and drink Postum in its place and as he and his family had used Postum and found it a powerful restorative and delicious food drink, I hesitated for no time, discarding the idea of having to give up my coffee but finally I got a package and found it to be all the doctor said.

"Since drinking Postum in place of coffee my dizziness, blindness and nervousness are all gone, my bowels are regular and I am again well and strong. That is a short statement of what Postum has done for me."

CONSTRUCTION BUCKEYE ROAD

First Dirt Has Been Turned to Save Exemption

BONUS IS STILL LACKING

Fifteen Thousand Dollars More Must Be Raised in the Next Week or Ten Days—Playing Close to the Limit.

Construction has begun on the Buckeye railroad. How long it will be continued will depend on how badly the people of Phoenix want to see it built and their liberality in adding to the bonus. The present construction is confessedly but a formal matter to comply with the technicality of the law, but the real work must begin very soon, for in thirty days there must be two miles of steel laid or the whole jig is up.

It was not intended to throw dirt until next Monday, but a careful calculation showed that the ninety days granted by the law to take advantage of the exemption would expire before Monday, so Friday a half dozen horses, a plow and a couple of scrapers were put in the field and began initial operations a short distance this side of the stretch farm. The work has now begun according to law, and the prospect given a little better, but two miles of track must be laid in the next thirty days, and to accomplish that active construction will have to be undertaken very soon.

This company will refuse to do unless it can be assured of the necessary bonus of which it is now short $15,000. The company felt that it could afford to risk a few dollars of private money to start the work, having faith that the people will make good on the enterprise when the absolute necessity of doing so is apparent. The company, however, cannot afford to go ahead and build the whole thing on a shoe-string, for it takes real money from some source to buy steel and string it.

Originally a bonus of $100,000 was asked for, and it was believed could be secured. It was found a little later that the sum was a little beyond the reach of the people, and the company cut it in two, but there is still a deficit of $15,000 even from that sum, though it is quite certain that a part of it can be raised yet in the lower country. The rest, however, must come from Phoenix, and there is but little time in which to raise it so all who really want to see the railroad built will have to co-operate with alacrity.

The right of way has all been secured except a half mile near town, two quarter miles a little further out and two or three other little patches, altogether totaling about two miles. Some of this is practically assured and the rest, it is believed, will be as soon as the bonus is certainly assured. The company is just now a deal more nervous about the bonus than it is about the right of way.
