THE LATEST ISSUE.—The latest issue brought forward by the local democrats who favor Cleveland rather than Hearst is that of water supply. They point to the spring and summer of 1884 when Cleveland's first boom assumed proportion, as a precedent. During that season there was an unusually long period of high water in Salt river, the ferry boats running both at Phoenix and Tempe all through the month of July. Another remarkable year was 1886, right in the middle of Cleveland's administration, when both the Salt and Gila rivers were bank full for months. Henry Morgan says he ran his ferry boat on the Gila for six months during that year. These facts ought to insure a Cleveland delegation to Tucson, from Maricopa county, but they probably won't for the Hearst boomers will never take water.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH.—Services at Central Methodist church on Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school at 9:30; preaching at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m.; junior league at 3 p. m.; senior league at 6:30 p. m. There will also be a prayer meeting on Wednesday night.

A NEW PUMPING PLANT.—Mr. W. A. Giles yesterday purchased a three-horse power gasoline engine which he will put up on the property he recently purchased west of the city. Mr. Giles bought a section of land but this plant is designed to furnish water only for domestic uses and for the irrigation of a garden and lawn. It will furnish about six inches of water.

PHELPS-DODGE OFFICIAL.—The private car Nacoras is expected to arrive here this morning from El Paso for the accommodation of Mr. James McLean who is expected here in the meantime, from some point not yet announced, but probably from the north. He expects to leave in the Nacoras Sunday night for the south. Mr. McLean is vice president and a director of the Phelps Dodge Co., and will go to southern Arizona probably to look after the railroad and mining interests of the company.

BARGAIN COUNTER INCIDENT.—A local dealer in soft drinks hung a card on the other day that he would sell two glasses of milk for five cents. A stranger got one glass and tendering a nickel said he would call for the other glass the next day. He was informed that both glasses had to be taken at once as the dealer could not afford to keep books on cut rate sales. The stranger accepted the ruling without a murmur but the next day he came around with another nickel and a friend to help him carry away his purchase.

AN AMUSING INCIDENT.—The Enterprise in yesterday's issue, performed its perfunctory party service of presenting a heavy editorial on the subject of the recently chosen democratic candidates for city councilmen. In doing so it sets forth at length the virtues of O. W. Lawrence as the candidate in the Fourth ward. Unfortunately it was A. H. Lawrence who was nominated and The Republican in its issue of yesterday morning inadvertently made a mistake in confounding the initials of the two men. Knowing that the Enterprise reads The Republican with religious regularity this announcement is made that the democratic organ discover, even though it be a late hour, just who its candidate really is.

STORAGE ENTERPRISE ITEMS.—Messrs. Leighton and Baker of the U. S. geological survey, left Mesa City Thursday morning for the Tonto dam site expecting to stop the first night at Mormon Flat and from there proceed by pack train over the unfinished part of the Fish creek road. Mr. Leighton is a hydro-economic engineer of the survey and Mr. Baker is a chemist. Their special work is to investigate the causes of the saline or alkaline nature of the waters of Salt river. They went from Mesa City via the stage line of Bowen & Grover which was placed in operation a few days earlier than intended especially for their accommodation. Bowen & Grover expect to make regular trips with their stage and are now engaged in building at Mormon Flat, a comfortable stage station and eating house or road house, for the accommodation of travelers.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.—The Presbyterian Sunday school of Phoenix and all its friends who have a dollar each, and the right inclination, will picnic today at the buttes in Pinal county, east of Florence. Arrangements have been made for a big excursion on the Phoenix & Eastern and all reputable people are invited to take advantage of the low rate for a good long railroad ride, and a view of the Gila valley. The buttes are several miles above Florence and near the Gila river at the present end of the Phoenix & Eastern track. The train will leave Phoenix this morning at 7:30 o'clock, city time, and returning will arrive here about 7 o'clock. The excursion will be under competent management and the best of care will be taken for the safety of all and everything possible provided to make the day a pleasant one.

STRAW HAT SEASON.—The straw hat season has forced itself upon a perspiring public and breezy summer headgear is now in evidence everywhere. The usual jokes are passed around everytime a "steamed citizen" appears with his new summer bonnet. Yesterday a well known attorney dug up his last year's cover and appeared in his usual haunts. It looked as well as ever except that it was a trifle yellowed with age. An acquaintance asked him why he wore the old hat when the lawyer asked him if it made any difference to him. Receiving a negative answer the lawyer said, "Then why do you ask?" Concluding he remarked, "But I'll give you a more civil answer by saying that in the first place it is none of your business and in the second place it's the only hat I've got."

THE WOMAN BEAUTIFUL

B. L. Bear Tells Why Laxakola Beautifies the Skin. Drop in most any time now and you are apt to see one of the clerks wrapping up a bottle of Laxakola. Phoenix ladies have learned of the remarkable effect of Laxakola upon the complexion, and the beneficial action it has upon the skin and complexion is really surprising. Mr. Bear will tell you the demand for it is increasing rapidly, not so much on account of the advertising, but because this or that lady drops into the store with the statement that she has been recommended to try it.

Probably no other remedy ever made so enviable a reputation in so short a time, for Laxakola is sold now in almost every prominent city in America. Should you need a mild, safe, gentle liquid laxative that will improve your appearance, cure constipation and make you feel better in every way, try a twenty-five cent bottle of the great toilet laxative, Laxakola, and your only regret will be that you did not know of this splendid remedy before.

CHEER UP!

Why Worry About Indigestion When Pepsikola Will Give You Relief.

"Why anyone should worry about indigestion," said the head clerk in Bear's drugstore, "is hard for us to understand."

"We have been selling Pepsikola for several months and in all our experience we never knew a remedy to give such universal satisfaction."

"We know four or five chronic old dyspeptics on the verge of despair for years who today are cheerful and happy all because of the beneficial effects of the little chocolate coated tablet taken after each meal."

"If you are thin, nervous, worried and low in spirits just cheer up and try a twenty-five cent box of Pepsikola of the druggist's say so and if it fails to give you a new nerve force, new ambition and new energy you can get back your money without any question or argument."

Pictures cheap this week. As I have a lot of two different styles $4.00 cards used up to last Christmas, I will make for $2.50 per dozen this week only. Donnell.

QUESTION PROPERLY ANSWERED

Mr. Fowler Reflects Arizona Sentiment Very Accurately.

time hold the confidence of influential legislators at the capital. "April 15, 1904. "Hon. J. C. Needham, M. C. "Washington, D. C.

"My Dear Sir: Your telegram of this date before me as follows: 'Are people of Arizona still opposed to joint statehood with New Mexico? Is there any change of sentiment since you were here?'

"I make immediate reply as follows: 'Arizona people were never more determined in opposition to joint statehood. Absolutely no change in sentiment since you saw me, except it is more outspoken. Such atrocious jointure will yet be defeated.'

"I cannot picture to you the intensity of his opposition on the part of our people and the united press of Arizona to the atrocious proposition of tying us up with New Mexico as one state. In my judgment the territory of Arizona will cast an overwhelming vote against such a union, and from the best information I have, New Mexico will cast a large if not a majority vote against it."

"Wild statements were made in Washington on this subject by men ignorant of the facts, as well as by men who ought to have known better, especially my friend Bradley. The people who are pushing this proposition do not understand existing conditions here. They are trying to unite and amalgamate two heterogeneous elements. The population is radically different, the customs are different, the language is different, the political foundations and there are so many intricate and complex problems arising therefrom in the way of vested rights, water rights, etc., that it will be almost impossible to bring about a union that shall be just and equitable and proper."

"My opinion is freely expressed here that if congress forces us into a constitutional convention wholly and completely against our will, which would be most unfortunate, we will fight it out on the floor of the convention."

"Why not let us remain a territory until the people are given an opportunity to develop our agricultural resources under the magnificent irrigation systems that have already been begun or projected along the Colorado, Salt and Gila rivers, and giving us more time for the development of our almost limitless mineral resources, which have as yet scarcely been touched? The tide of immigration from the north, east and south is now full and strong; a few years more and we can point to a civilization, population, wealth and resources of which we may be justly proud."

"And if in 1912, after the census has been taken and published, and we have had eight years to grow, then if in the wisdom of congress it is not advisable to adopt us into the sisterhood of states, our having waited patiently fifty years from the territorial organization, we will wait still longer and so on demonstrating our fitness for association with our brothers and sisters from the Atlantic to the Pacific, when we have left to come into this section to build up a new empire."

"If there is anything further that I can do to assist you in fighting this joint statehood proposition, pray let me know what it is, and give me an opportunity to join you."

"I think perhaps it may be of assistance to you for me to send you a few copies of recent issues of our local papers, containing editorials on this subject, which I will attend to at once. Meanwhile hoping to hear from you on the subject."

FAIRY TALES UP TO NOW.

Wallace Irwin has added a third book to his series of successful metrical satires. He has done this after his "Love Sonnets of a Hoodlum" has passed the 60,000 mark—in brief, has had a wider circulation than the work of any contemporary writer of verse, however ambitious. The "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam Jr.," of later publication, has also enjoyed surprising popularity.

"Fairy Tales Up to Now" promises to rival its predecessors in popularity, as it contains all their boldness and freshness of humor, with an adventure into burlesque story telling which is diverting in the extreme. The author tells us that his fairy tales are "old favorites sandbagged," but more properly speaking, he has used the characters of our childhood's myths to pummel the follies and vices of our modern civilization. He makes the story of Little Red Riding Hood a tragedy in which the wolf expires after partaking of a patent breakfast food; the Sleeping Beauty is hypnotized by a walking delegate. Each fairy tale is announced by startling newspaper headlines of the "yellowest" possible description, as witness the following synopsized introduction to the time honored tale of Cinderella: WAS IT GLASS?

SENSATIONAL ROMANCE OF CINDERELLA, A STENOGRAPHER IN A HIRED BALL GOWN. Jilted by a Duke She Becomes an Heiress.

Like the "Love Sonnets of a Hoodlum," "Fairy Tales Up to Now" is issued in a twenty-five cent edition, but the publishers, Paul Elder & Company, San Francisco, have succeeded in producing a unique volume for the price. The sensational treatment of these "myths made probable" suggested the scareline typography of the "yellow" newspapers as their most appropriate expression, and the up-to-date journals have been borrowed from an Atlanta, Ga. novel but very correct piece of bookmaking. All the details have been worked out, even to the "circulation," "weather" and "racing" notes, and "The Cross Marks the Spot" at the finish.

The matrix edition, price fifty cents, is certainly a bold departure, each copy being bound in genuine matrix boards that have first served their purpose in the issue of a great daily. Obviously, no two copies are alike and the edition

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

THE LIFE WE LIVE.

UNIVERSAL HARMONY. A serious man with a long face gingerly stepped down into the deep mud. Behind him a load of furniture waited anxiously.

An ice wagon driver swore several temperatures of caloric. A hook and ladder truck intensified the heat. A push cart got inevitable crossways between a trolley car and a stone truck.

The serious man in the mud wildly turned a little crank and held his breath and hoped. He wasn't spinning a top. Neither was he grinding coffee. He was cranking a runaway. Suddenly it sobbed.

The serious man leaped joyfully out of the mud, the ice cooled off, the hook and ladder truck scorched by the furniture was released, the push cart was arrested. Moral—What the universe needs is persistent cranking.

AT THE RACES. A young man took his best girl to the races one beautiful afternoon. They sat together in the grand stand to watch the horses run while their hearts were beating in unison.

At least his was. Somehow her's didn't keep time. He spoke to her in a vein of the deepest appreciation of the lawfulness of the weather, the rare conviction of the moment. His poetry simply romped but she hung back and refused the pace.

Suddenly he realized that nothing was doing in the sentimental stakes just yet, so he handed her a lot of clippings from the horse columns. He said: "I'm forgetting what we are for. You pick them and I will bet. We will divide the result."

She extended at once. She fairly radiated felicity, as the rose in a rain of wine. On their way to the cars he handed her $17. "Dear Charley, the races are so sweet! Let's come back tomorrow and get some more—you look so handsome in a duster."

Moral—When the purse is full the heart runs over.—St. Louis Republic.

WHEN WOMEN DON'T WANT TO SNEEZE. "There are times when to sneeze is to be embarrassed," Mr. T. B. Blanchard confided to me. "At a dinner table, a social function of some sort, or in the theater, for example, but most people console themselves with the thought that it is something that can't be prevented. They are mistaken in this belief, however, for it can be prevented, and by a very simple expedient. When one feels the premonitory symptoms of a sneeze coming on, if he will just press firmly down on the lip on either side of and a little below the nostrils, the symptoms will never cash in and the sneeze will be avoided. A doctor told me about this trick several years ago, and on a number of occasions since I have had opportunity to test its efficacy. It has never yet failed me."—Globe-Democrat.
