The Railroad to be Opened to Tempe on Monday, "Telegraphic Communication To Be Established.

Yesterday, the second day after the high water, we were ready to relieve the poor by the flood. Twenty-five families were fed, and we are now to begin the work of helping the destitute. The flood has been less here than in the northern part of the state, but it has caused much suffering.

Many of the billets of the ship were necessary in feeding children and women for the flood. The ship's crew of the ship were especially active, and we are glad to be able to relieve them in this manner.

After the ship arrived, we started a small camp in the town where the families were being cared for by the Red Cross and Red Cross.

The flood has caused much suffering, and we are glad to be able to help those in need.

Murphy's large ferry boat was not in operation owing to the fact that much of the cable lies buried in a sand bar. It is expected that wagons will be able to cross Monday.

In the meantime ferriage is secured by means of a new and large row boat, built by E. A. Murphy and a skiff managed by James and Robert Goodwin.
